Summary

My portfolio of Data Analysis projects ➡# <https://insightfulowldatascience.com/publications/> ⬅#

My name is Valentino Agazzi Mandozzi. I am a fourth-year Economics student at the Autonomous University of Barcelona. Over the past few years, I have developed a strong passion for Data Science, thanks to an incredible statistics professor I had in my second year. He introduced me to data analysis using R, and I instantly fell in love with it. My interest in the field grew so much that I embarked on a journey of self-learning, quickly grasping the basics of Data Analytics. Soon after, I decided to leverage the strong foundation in statistics and econometrics I had gained during my studies at UAB to redirect my professional career toward this area.
